Durnell Marketing is a sales, marketing, and consultancy agency representing outstanding independent publishers from the UK and the US in Europe, Central Asia, and the Caucasus.

At Durnell, we are passionate about connecting exceptional publishers with readers around the world. Our friendly, multilingual team combines tailored sales systems with creative marketing strategies to support publishers in building their brands and growing their sales.

We are very happy working with James Dunphy and his team at Durnell Marketing. One of the best, if not the best to work with on procuring books. The Durnell Team is passionate, driven by their love of books and always a delight to work with. We know who to contact for good and quick help if anything is needed."
